A visit from Laurence Llewelyn-Bowen

"There's not a thing I would change in Christine's home"

Recently, Laurence Llewelyn-Bowen was driving past my house filming for his new television show "Laurence of Suburbia" when he asked his assistant to get him in to view it.

Laurence didn't know whose house it was or what I do for my work. It was a great surprise and I look forward to viewing the clip they filmed for his new show.
